Investment Philosophy

› Distressed Value Capture: Acquire stressed real estate at steep discounts; resolve, restructure, and exit at market value.

› Early-Stage Alpha: Partner with high-conviction founders in fintech, agri-tech, SaaS, and clean energy at Seed–Series A.

› Capital Protection First: Asset-backed exposures, secured debentures, and a liquid reserve buffer protect the downside.

> "We don't just deploy capital — we act as operating partners, helping every portfolio asset reach its full potential." — GHL Investment Committee

■ 02 What is an Alternative Investment Fund?

Understanding SEBI's regulatory definition, AIF categories, and investor eligibility.

SEBI defines an Alternative Investment Fund as a privately pooled investment vehicle that collects funds from sophisticated investors — Indian or foreign — and deploys them per a defined investment policy, distinct from conventional mutual funds and securities.

The Three AIF Categories

Category	Focus Area	Typical Vehicles	GHL?
Cat I	Socially / economically beneficial	VC Funds, SME Funds, Infrastructure Funds	—
Cat II	No leverage; no Cat I or III	PE Funds, Debt Funds, Stressed Asset Funds	✓
Cat III	Complex strategies, leverage allowed	Hedge Funds, PIPE Funds	—

GHL India Ventures is a Category II AIF — no leverage, SEBI-regulated, asset-backed focus.

Investor Eligibility

- Indian resident individuals / HUFs with net worth ≥ ■5 Crore (excluding primary residence)
- Body corporates with net worth ≥ ■25 Crore
- Non-Resident Indians (NRIs) under FEMA-compliant repatriation or non-repatriation basis
- Minimum commitment: ■1 Crore per investor per scheme
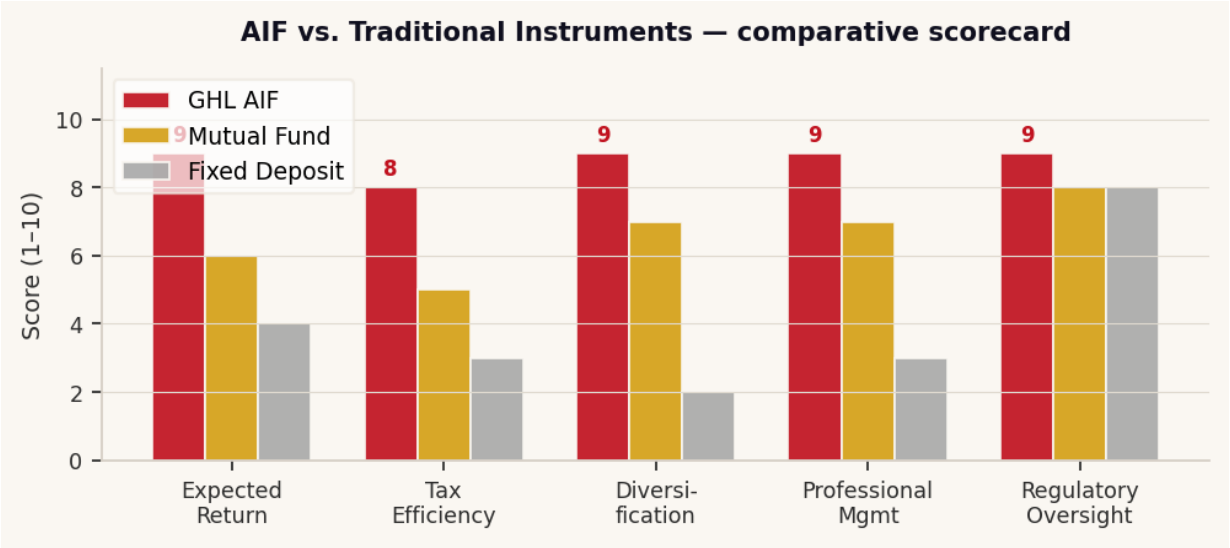
- Maximum 1,000 investors per scheme as per SEBI mandate

03 Why Invest in an AIF?

Superior returns, tax pass-through, and exclusive access to off-market deal flow.

The following chart compares GHL's AIF against mutual funds and fixed deposits across five key investor-relevant dimensions.



Illustrative qualitative comparison. Not a guarantee of performance.

Key Benefits for HNI Investors

› High Return Potential: Target IRR of 18%+ p.a., driven by operational alpha from real estate turnarounds and startup equity upside.

› Tax Pass-Through (Cat II): Income is taxed at the investor level — often at favourable long-term capital gains rates — not at the fund level.

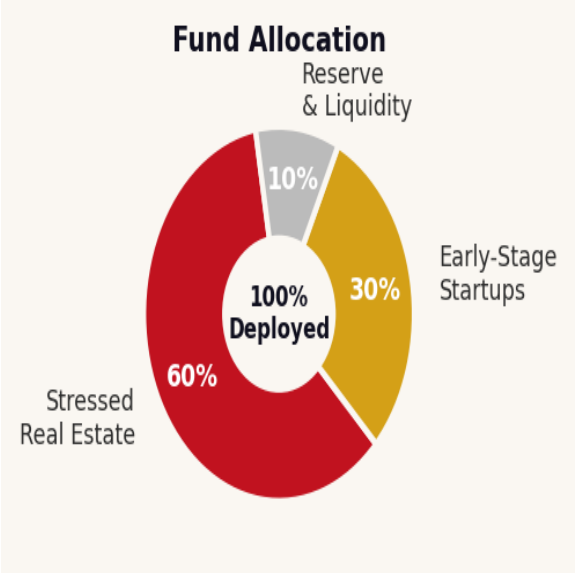
› True Diversification: Exposure to two uncorrelated asset classes (private real estate & private equity) within a single regulated vehicle.

› Full SEBI Oversight: Quarterly portfolio disclosures, independent trustee governance, and annual audited accounts.

› Exclusive Off-Market Access: Deal flow is proprietary and unavailable through public markets or retail products.

04 Fund Strategy & Allocation

How GHL deploys capital across stressed real estate and early-stage ventures.



Allocation Strategy

› 60% Stressed Real Estate: NCLT-resolved assets, OTS deals, and stuck-project rescue financing in Tier-1 & Tier-2 cities.

› 30% Early-Stage Startups: Seed–Series A investments in fintech, SaaS, agri-tech, and clean energy founders.

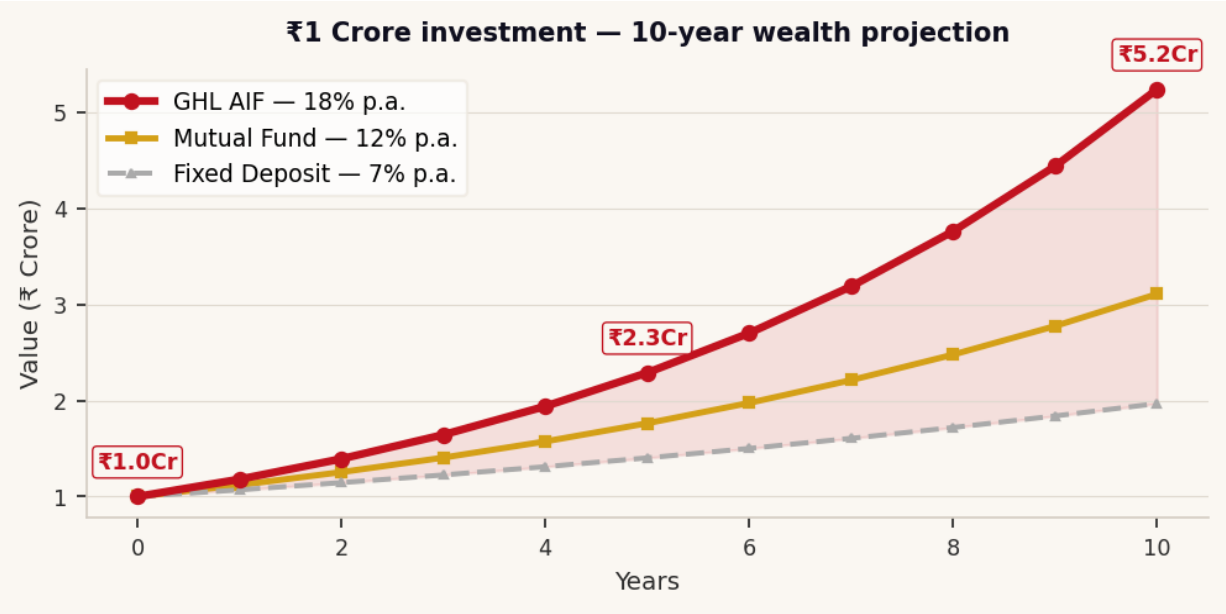
› 10% Reserve & Liquidity: Treasury paper and liquid instruments for deployment timing and redemption management.

Target: 8–12 real estate positions + 10–15 startup investments c

■ 05 Compound Growth & Return Modelling

How ■1 Crore grows at GHL's target returns versus conventional instruments.

At GHL's target IRR of 18% p.a., ■1 Crore compounds to ■5.23 Crore in 10 years — 2.7× more than a fixed deposit (■1.97 Cr) and 68% more than an average mutual fund (■3.1 Cr). The shaded region below shows the incremental wealth generated by choosing GHL over an FD.



Projections assume constant annual returns. For illustrative purposes only. Past performance is not indicative of future results.

10-Year Projection Table — ■1 Crore initial investment

Year	GHL AIF @ 18%	Mutual Fund @ 12%	Fixed Deposit @ 7%	GHL Advantage
1	■1.18 Cr	■1.12 Cr	■1.07 Cr	+■0.11 Cr
2	■1.39 Cr	■1.25 Cr	■1.14 Cr	+■0.25 Cr
3	■1.64 Cr	■1.40 Cr	■1.23 Cr	+■0.42 Cr

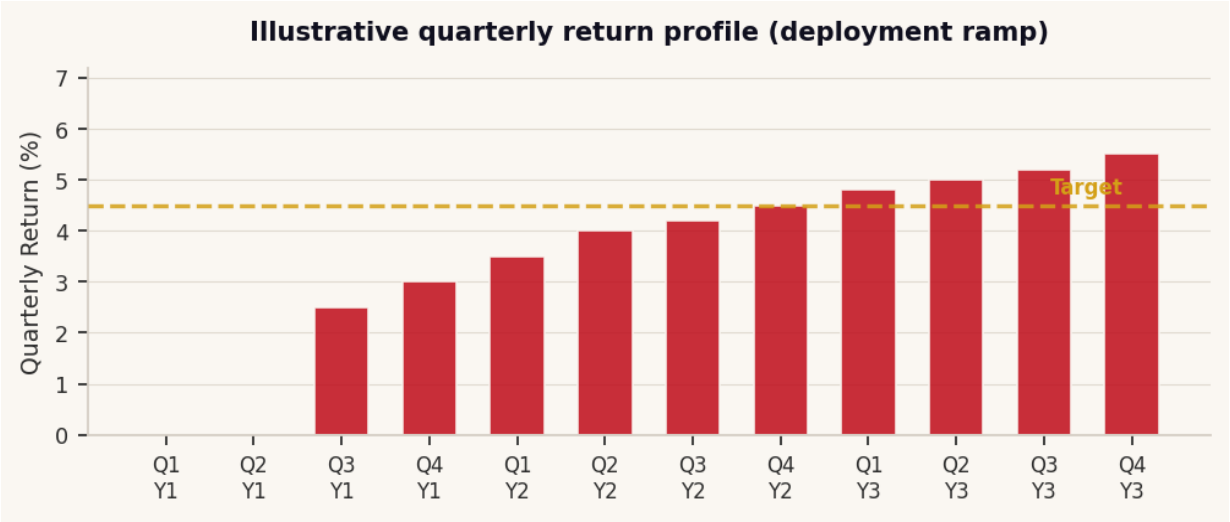
06 Quarterly Return Profile

Understanding the deployment curve and when returns begin to accrue.

Private funds do not generate returns from Day 1. Capital is deployed progressively as suitable investment opportunities are sourced and executed. The first two quarters are typically used for fund establishment, KYC, and pipeline evaluation.



Illustrative deployment ramp. Actual timing depends on deal flow and market conditions.

Fund Lifecycle Milestones

Timeline	Activity
Y1 Q1–Q2	First close; legal documentation, KYC/AML onboarding, initial pipeline screening
Y1 Q3–Q4	First investments deployed; stressed real estate positions initiated
Year 2	Full deployment; startup portfolio built; first investor distributions possible
Year 3–4	Active asset management, value-add execution, selective exits begin
Year 5	Target full realisation and return of capital + carry distribution

08 Regulatory Framework & Risk Factors

SEBI oversight, fund governance structure, and principal risk disclosures.

Regulatory Framework

GHL operates under the SEBI (AIF) Regulations, 2012. As a Category II AIF, key obligations include:

- Quarterly portfolio disclosure to SEBI and investors
- Annual audited financial statements by SEBI-empanelled auditors
- Independent trustee with full fiduciary oversight
- No leverage permitted — protecting investor capital
- Mandatory conflict-of-interest and related-party disclosures

Principal Risk Factors

- Liquidity Risk: AIF units are not listed on any exchange. There is no guaranteed secondary market. Early exit may not be possible.
- Market Risk: Real estate valuations and startup marks are subject to economic cycles, regulatory changes, and macro conditions.
- Concentration Risk: A limited number of positions means any single underperformance can materially affect overall fund returns.
- Execution Risk: Stressed asset resolution depends on NCLT timelines, legal outcomes, and buyer demand — all uncertain variables.
- Regulatory Risk: Changes to SEBI AIF regulations, FEMA provisions, or tax laws may affect fund operations and net returns.
